Dear David,

According to reports today, a Montenegrin court has extended Do Kwon's incarnation by another two months, which puts his incarceration date past our trial date. In light of this, can you please let us know your client's position on whether he is waiving his participation in the civil trial?

Also, can you please let us know whether your client has filed a formal appeal of the High Court's extradition decision?

Kind regards,

Carina

Dear Carina:

We understand that Mr. Kwon informed the Montenegrin court that he would consent to the requested extradition to South Korea, but that he was not asked by the Montenegrin court about the requested extradition to the U.S. We understand that there was a decision rendered relating to the appropriate extradition process and that additional legal proceedings will take place.

Best regards,

David
